

Aloe Body Conditioning Creme

Description and Purpose

If you want your body to feel supple and smooth, Aloe Body Conditioning Creme is for you. This is the ideal partner to the Aloe Body Toner. These complementary elements of the Body Toning Kit, combined with dieting and regular exercise, can help reduce the onset of cellulite.

There are many reasons for the appearance of cellulite, but the result is often discouragement to take action and a lack of confidence. An imbalance in hormonal activity and high levels of oestrogen can both contribute to the development of cellulite. It can also be caused by a breakdown in the vascular system. (Our nutritional supplements linked to strengthening the vascular system are Nature-Min, Absorbent-C, A-Beta-CarE.)

Aloe Body Conditioning Creme is a thick emollient emulsion cream with herbal extracts, emulsifiers, humectants and conditioners. Aloe Body Conditioning Creme can be used as a massage cream and used as a spot rub for the entire hip and leg area or for parts of the body which should not be wrapped. This unique non-greasy conditioning cream imparts a warm glowing feeling to the skin. It helps stimulate circulation which breaks up the trapped fluids and fatty tissue which frequently cause cellulite.
